Minimize duplication of efforts (like recreating the same budget, timeline or task list over and over again) as well as avoid double-entering data (because ideally all the tools work together and share information).. Plus, if you are tech savvy, the beauty of open-source software is the ability to adjust the software source code to fit the needs of your event.. Simplify how you coordinate with your team, including managing event vendors, co-workers, stakeholders, clients, contractors, volunteers, committees, sponsors, exhibitors and anyone else involved with managing your events.
